

Collaborative Qualitative Data Analysis using ATLAS.ti Web: Case of Cyberbullying

Ani Munirah Mohamad, PhD
School of Law and Centre for Testing, Measurement and Appraisal (CeTMA),
Universiti Utara Malaysia
animunirah@uum.edu.my

Yusramizza Md Isa @ Yusuff, PhD
School of Law and ASEAN
Research Institute for Corporate
Governance (ARICG),
Universiti Utara Malaysia
yusramizza@uum.edu.my

BACHELOR

Internet and world wide web have
aggravated BULLYING
into the CYBERspace

Anytime

Anywhere

Anyone

Cyber+bullying

BACKGROUND OF THE STUDY

Project funded by Malaysian
Communications and Multimedia Commission
(MCMC) to study
the adequacy of Malaysian laws governing cyberbullying

INTERVIEW
(19 EXPERTS)

ONLINE SURVEY
(120 PERSONS)

STEPS

1

ABILITY TO MONITOR AND FOLLOW
EACH OTHER'S WORKS

2

INTERACTIVE AND USEFUL FEATURES

3

ENJOYABLE EXPERIENCE OF COLLABORATIVE QUALITATIVE ANALYSING

Benefits which I attained by Using ATLAS.ti. Web

MAIN FINDINGS

- No criminality for traditional and cyberspace bullying
- No specific law to address cyberbullying in Malaysia
- Dispersed laws only apply to the extent of the ambit of the legal provision(s)
- Not all international instruments are binding on Malaysia
- International instruments: No specifications for approach to be taken against perpetrators or remedies for the victims
- International instruments: General resolutions of conventions or meetings, not specifically address cyberbullying

Recommendations

1. Creation of a
Specific Law to Address
Bullying

2. Establishment of Working Committee as Focal Point for Coordination of Cyberbullying Cases

[illegible]